Motus Is Hiring! Wholesale & Retail Learnerships 2025 / 2026 in South Africa

Description

Motus Aftermarket Parts invites unemployed youth across South Africa to apply for the Wholesale & Retail Operations Learnership Programme 2025 / 2026. This 12-month programme offers an incredible opportunity to gain valuable theoretical and hands-on work experience in the automotive parts industry.

Successful candidates will be placed at one of our branches in Johannesburg, Cape Town, or Emalahleni, where they will actively participate in day-to-day operations across multiple departments.

What You'll Learn (Role Responsibilities)

As a learner, you will gain practical knowledge in key operational areas, including:

- Warehouse Operations: Picking, binning, and packing automotive parts
- Sales: Understanding retail customer service and product knowledge
- Administration: Handling retail documentation and system entries
- Retail Environment: Exposure to front-line retail operations and customer engagement

Who Should Apply? (Requirements)

To be considered for this learnership, you must meet the following criteria:

- South African citizen
- Aged between 18–25 years
- Diploma or Degree qualification (any field)
- Currently unemployed
- No prior work experience
- Clear criminal record (essential)
- Certified copy of South African ID

Why Join Motus?

Motus is one of South Africa's leading automotive companies, and our learnership programmes are designed to develop future talent and provide a stepping stone into long-term careers within the automotive retail sector.

By completing this programme, you will earn a National Certificate in Wholesale & Retail Operations – a valuable credential that enhances your employability in retail and logistics industries.
