South African Breweries (SAB) Graduate Internships 2026

Description

South African Breweries (SAB) invites ambitious and high-potential graduates to apply for its Graduate Internships 2026 intake. Through the SAB Trainee Programmes, graduates are developed by building strong technical capability aligned to individual career aspirations, while gaining valuable cross-functional experience in a fast-paced corporate environment. This programme is designed to nurture future leaders by exposing them to real business challenges, encouraging innovative thinking, and unlocking long-term career opportunities within SAB.

About the SAB Trainee Programme

- A highly competitive 24-month programme made up of segmented fixed-term contracts
- Robust evaluations throughout the programme determine progression across each phase
- Structured around 6-month rotational cycles, offering cross-functional exposure within the selected business area
- Based on the 70–20–10 learning model:
- 70% learning through hands-on projects and challenging experiences
- 20% learning through coaching, mentorship, and developmental relationships
- 10% learning through formal training and coursework
- Encourages innovation, calculated risk-taking, and problem-solving in new ways
- Upon successful completion of the 24-month programme, graduates become eligible to apply for various permanent roles within the business
